HOT STUFF

THE LITTLE DEVIL

in The TALE-TWISTER

Occasionally, a letter comes to me that is so astonishing in the amount of knowledge, interest and intelligence it contains, that I read it in awe. I received just such a note from Joey Marchese, from Union, New Jersey, and I'd like to share some of Joey's comments with you...

Dear Sid: Now that your column has become monthly, I thought this would be the right time for me to share with you my compliments and criticisms about the new Harvey Comics. Before I start, though, I'd like to congratulate you. I was reading your books when you edited at Marvel Comics, and I'm now reading the books that you edit at Harvey. You are a truly talented gentleman.

(SJ: I told you he was intelligent! I'm only kidding! Thanks, Joey, but I'm not sure you knew that I was also the editor at Harvey before I went to Marvel. I handled most of the Richie, Casper, Hot Stuff, et al that Harvey published in the past. Now back to Joey...)

Now about me. I read everything from Superman to Punisher to Hot Stuff. Simply put, I look at each genre in a different way, and Harveys are some of the best books in their particular genre.

(SJ: I told you he was intelligent...and this time I'm not kidding!)

Let me start off with my criticisms. Mainly, I wish that you would add credits to each story. I find it very annoying when I read a story with no credits. While I know of Ernie Colon, Stan Kay, Warren Kremer and others, I can't identify their work.

(SJ: We're going to see if we can do something about listing credits, Joey. Some of the old work is hard to trace, but certainly Warren's and Ernie's and Howie Post's—and a host of other Harvey artists'—work can be identified. It's a disgrace that readers then and now don't know the names of these great creators and can't appreciate the work they did. It was the policy of the old Harvey owners NOT to give their names. Please take a look at books such as Saved By the Bell, Beetlejuice, Back to the Future and Little Dracula. Today we proudly give credits to our creators. They deserve it!)

Second, I'd like to see a more consistent line of books. I'd like each book to be on a fixed schedule so I always know when I can purchase them. I'd also like to see not more than two or three books per character, because they can get very confusing when it's time to purchase them.

(SJ: We are trying our best to become consistent, Joey, but it's not easy. It's hard to tell what the public will buy, so we try different combinations till we get it right. As to putting out too many titles of a character, Richie is the only one right now with more than three. But don't forget, years ago there were more than 30 Richie titles on the newsstands every two months!)

Finally, how about a different letters column for each book? I'm as pleased as you are that younger children enjoy Harvey comics and write in, but what about a forum for readers like me?

(SJ: I think you've just started our readers forum page, Joey! You can all write in to me. It's been great fun answering your letter for every one of our readers, and I look forward to more such mail from more of you.) and we get letters...

Dear Harvey Comics,

I hope you continue to print Casper and Richie Rich comic books. I am going to write comics when I grow up. I think Casper is very nice. He helps people a lot. I sent you a letter a couple of days ago. I hope you got it! I also sent you my picture. It is from this year in school. Well, see ya!

P.S. Richie Rich is nice too.

Your fan, Kelley Schaperjahn
Fulton, NY

Dear Kelley,

Thank you for both of your letters! We read every letter and postcard—no matter how many—our fans send us! I hope that when you begin writing comics, you'll try writing one with me in it. Maybe you can even write a story that has both of us in an adventure together! I can tell from the picture you sent that you are very nice also, Kelley! I wish I could send you a picture of me, but ghosts don't photograph very well!

Your friend, Casper

Dear Baby Huey,

You are my favorite character. How much do you weigh? My birthday is in September. My favorite animal is a duck. What do you want to be when you grow up. I want to be a Policeman.

Yours truly, Bryan Lowry, age 8
Miranda, CA

P.S. Maybe you can lose some weight.

Dear Bryan,

Oh boy! Another fan letter! And from a little boy just like me! I can't count too high, Bryan, but my Pa says that I weigh way too much! I guess he was a little mad when I sat on the scale and it broke! I want to become a policeman too, Bryan! That way we can both catch the bad men and put them in jail! Oh yeah! My Pa told me to say thank you very much for the nice letter!

Thank you very much for the nice letter!

Your pal, Baby Huey

Dear Harvey Comics,

Are your comics in Germany also? My mom's dad was from Germany. How long have you been in business? I have almost every issue that was sold. I think Little Audrey is funny. I really like Harvey comics a lot. Keep up the great work, Harvey Comics!

Your friend always, Shane Laverty, age 10

Oshawa, Ontario, Canada

Dear Shane,

There are lots of Harvey comics in Germany, Shane! In fact, you can find Harvey comics all over the world! Everyday we get fan letters from as far away as Nigeria and Australia! Harvey comics have been around for over 50 years, and so it's possible that your mom read Harvey comics, and your mom's dad too!

From, the Harveyland Gang

Dear Richie Rich and Casper,

I like reading your comics. When ever my mum and dad go to learn how to dance, I have to go too—but I take one of your comics. I enjoy reading your comics, and some times I read them at home. So keep writing, and I will keep reading.

Yours sincerely, Danny Portelli
Australia

Dear Danny,

We're always happy to hear from our friends Down Under! You're some of our top fans! Reading comics is a great way to pass the time, but we think you should learn how to dance too! Wendy and Gloria just love to go out dancing with us! It's a great way to meet new people, and if you read our comics, you know we always like meeting new people and making new friends!

So keep on reading, Danny, and we'll keep on writing!

Your friends, Casper and Richie

Dear Casper,

My name is Bradley. I am eight years old. I like your comics, and I like the comics that are in the newspaper. I heard that Beetle Bailey was in comic books now. Some are colored in the newspaper and some are just black and white. I like the colored ones better because they have more comics. Speaking of color, what kind of machine do you use for drawing and coloring?

Sincerely, Bradley Snider
Chambersburg, PA

Dear Bradley

If you like the colored comic in the newspaper, Bradley, than you have to check out the new Beetle Bailey comic book. All of the pages are in full color! And speaking of comic book pages, we don't use machines to draw our comics! Instead we have a group of very talented artists who draw me and the rest of the Harveyland gang! And being a Harvey artist is not an easy job, Bradley, especially when you need to get Spooky and Hot Stuff to sit still to draw their pictures!

Your friend, Casper
